Dear Robert

Thank you for your email, please find the attached response.

I have made the amendments I am able to make, unfortunately I have not received final approval from James in respect of the Highways issues accordingly, there is a chance the Highway Authority may send a clarification/supplementary note if required. Apologies if this causes any issues however, I am now on leave for a week and James is also on leave tomorrow and I am aware that you require a response by the end of this week (a draft response having been provided on 12th March).

From our discussion I understand you are happy with the format of the response and that it can be accepted without the need to complete the questionnaire. If this has changed please could you let Matthew know in my absence.

Kind regards
